PERSONAL STATEMENT

I am an enthusiast Junior Full Stack Web Developer, ready to relocate and looking for a dynamic team where I can learn and be challenged. I look forward to help grow ideas through my management and technical knowledge. I get especially excited about Ruby and JavaScript, and I work hard to improve my skills every day.

SKILLS

Wordfast, Atril's Déjà Vu, ABBYY FineReader, Microsoft Office, HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, JavaScript, jQuery, SQL, git, GitHub, Heroku & RoR

WORK EXPERIENCE

1 Sep 2015 Digital Assets Specialist
– 6 May 2016 Worldreader, Barcelona

I supervised the process of digitalisation of books from its original source file format (pdf, word, indd.) to its final edition in epub and mobi format (based in HTML and CSS). I also managed the upload and testing of the books through the CMS into the different apps we had (Binu, Web App, Windows app, Android). I was also product manager for the main database (built on RoR) in which the metadata from the e-reader programs books was stored.

24 Oct 2012 Translation Project Manager
– 15 Aug 2015 TransPerfect, Barcelona

As a position based in the Production department of Life Sciences, my main duties included handling projects from start to finish, preparing the entire project ready for translation, and conversion from and into various file types (pdf, word, ppt, indd, qxd, txml, to name a few). On the technical side, I mainly worked with Wordfast and OCR technology.

Aside from these main tasks, I have also been a stand-in team leader on many occasions, covering for holidays and absences. On these occasions, I worked with and managed a team of up to six people.

As an extra, in July 2014, I was given the opportunity to work from a new TransPerfect office in Utrecht (the Netherlands). For that period, I managed a team of four Projects Coordinators. After that I had the opportunity to join the team in the London office to help the Production Managers for one month.

VOLUNTEER WORK

07 May Environmental Workcamp Leader

2016 – 07
Oct 2016

SEEDS Iceland, under European Volunteer Service

For 5 months, I decided to take on a complete different role and volunteer for the Icelandic environmental organization SEEDS. My main duties were serve as lead and organizer of the volunteers that would come from all over the world to Iceland every two weeks, and serve as a link between SEEDS and the local organization that had had the idea of the specific project that we were working on every time.
